What?

- Currently 107 people with merge permissions

Who?

- We were 80 in november 2016
- Just a few people work for Puppet Inc.
- Most of the contributors participate in their free time
- Normal administrators that have to deal with puppet at work

Vox Pupuli

What?

- Many administrators of legacy infrastructures

Who?

- Puppet3, Ruby191, Ruby2.0
- November 2016: Puppet2.7, Ruby187
- Do we already call Puppet4 legacy? (yes pls)

@bastelsblog for @voxpupuliorg

Vox Pupuli

What?

- Maintaining a module on your own is hard

Who?

- Proper testing of a module requires a lot of stuff from the ruby ecosystem

Why?

- Ruby ecosystem and related tools are changing too fast for a single person

- Everything has to work on multiple Ruby/Puppet versions

- Rubocop

- Rubocop

Vox Pupuli

How?

modulesync

- We are managing more than 88 modules
- We had 75 in november 2016
- modulesync was developed by Puppet Inc, moved to Vox Pupuli
- It takes a config file + templates, throws it into every modules git repo
- Works with GitHub Pull Requests
- Everybody can start it
- Every of our Collaborators can approve/merge it

Hi @cristianbalan-mf, thanks for this issue. Are you able to provide a patch for this?

Hi @danirueda, you are using a way outdated puppet version. Support for puppet 3.X ended last december. Puppetlabs doesn't provide any patches for that version, and puppet 5 just got released. This module isn't compatible anymore with puppet 3. You should really consider updating your environment. We're reachable basically 24/7 in the IRC channel #voxpupuli on freenode. Just let us know if you need any help for the upgrades.
